Mr. Torres,

I'm writing to tell you what an outstanding rodeo the City of Brush hosted last weekend. My family and I drove from Denver to attend Sunday's evening rodeo. We were greeted by friendly people who welcomed us "city slickers" like we were part of the family.

We enjoyed outstanding concession that were reasonably priced compared to anything you would experience in Denver. I love knowing the money I paid was going to support your fast-pitch softball team.

The rodeo itself was truly one of the best rodeos. It was organized and there was something for everyone to enjoy. The stock contractor had some of the best bulls and bucking horses around. If the word were to get out about the caliber of bulls - watch out PBR.

Every seat was a good seat. As the stands started getting crowded, I noticed people moving to make room for others to sit. You never see this anywhere in Denver! Everywhere I went it was clean too!

Most of all, it was nice to walk around the complex and feel safe. You have a professional police department who obviously understands the balance between creating a safe, family environment and running people off.

As I was driving home, I realized the City of Brush represents my vision of the perfect American community.

Whatever you are doing to make your city what it is today, keep doing it!

Please share this with your staff. I'm confident they work hard for this event to be successful.

Sincerely,

Bryan Lingo and family.
